Missing are Francine LaTerza, Karen Schwieger, George Pearson, Jane Gale, Mychael Hamlet, Dan Lydon, Debbie Petto, Ron Kosmo.

THE

The Mass Media is the weekly student newspaper of UMB. Those of us at the paper would like you to know a little bit about how the paper is produced. When students pick up the paper on Tuesday it marks the end of a five-day production schedule that leaves many of us at our wits end.

Our week starts on Tuesday when raw copy is submitted to the editors. The copy is edited by a department editor and then the copy editors. The copy is then sent to Point Press to be typeset.

On Wednesday film is developed and the layout is started; Copy is still being submitted.

On Thursday there is still more copy coming into the office, photographs are printed and the layout is finished. Typeset copy is proofread and marked for corrections and then is is pasted-up.

On Friday headlines and captions are written and editors check their sections for mistakes, inconsistencies and corrections.

On Monday the final details such as logos, folios, and final corrections are put on the pages. The Editor-in-Chief is the last person to check the pages before the page negatives are shot and the halftones are stripped in. Minor errors, such as typos, must sometimes be allowed to pass because of the time factor.

MASSMEDIA

The preceding overview is very brief and the glossary that follows will define the terms used to help you understand the process.

Raw Copy- typed articles and stories.

Typesetting- Typing articles into specified column widths. E.g. The Mass Media news command is 9/10 helios x1400 Justified. This translates as follows: a nine point letter in a ten point space on a column width of 14 picas with a justified margin.

Pica- A unit of measure used in printing because it is very accurate.

Layout- Page design

Editing- Checking copy for errors in spelling, punctuation, grammar and veracity.

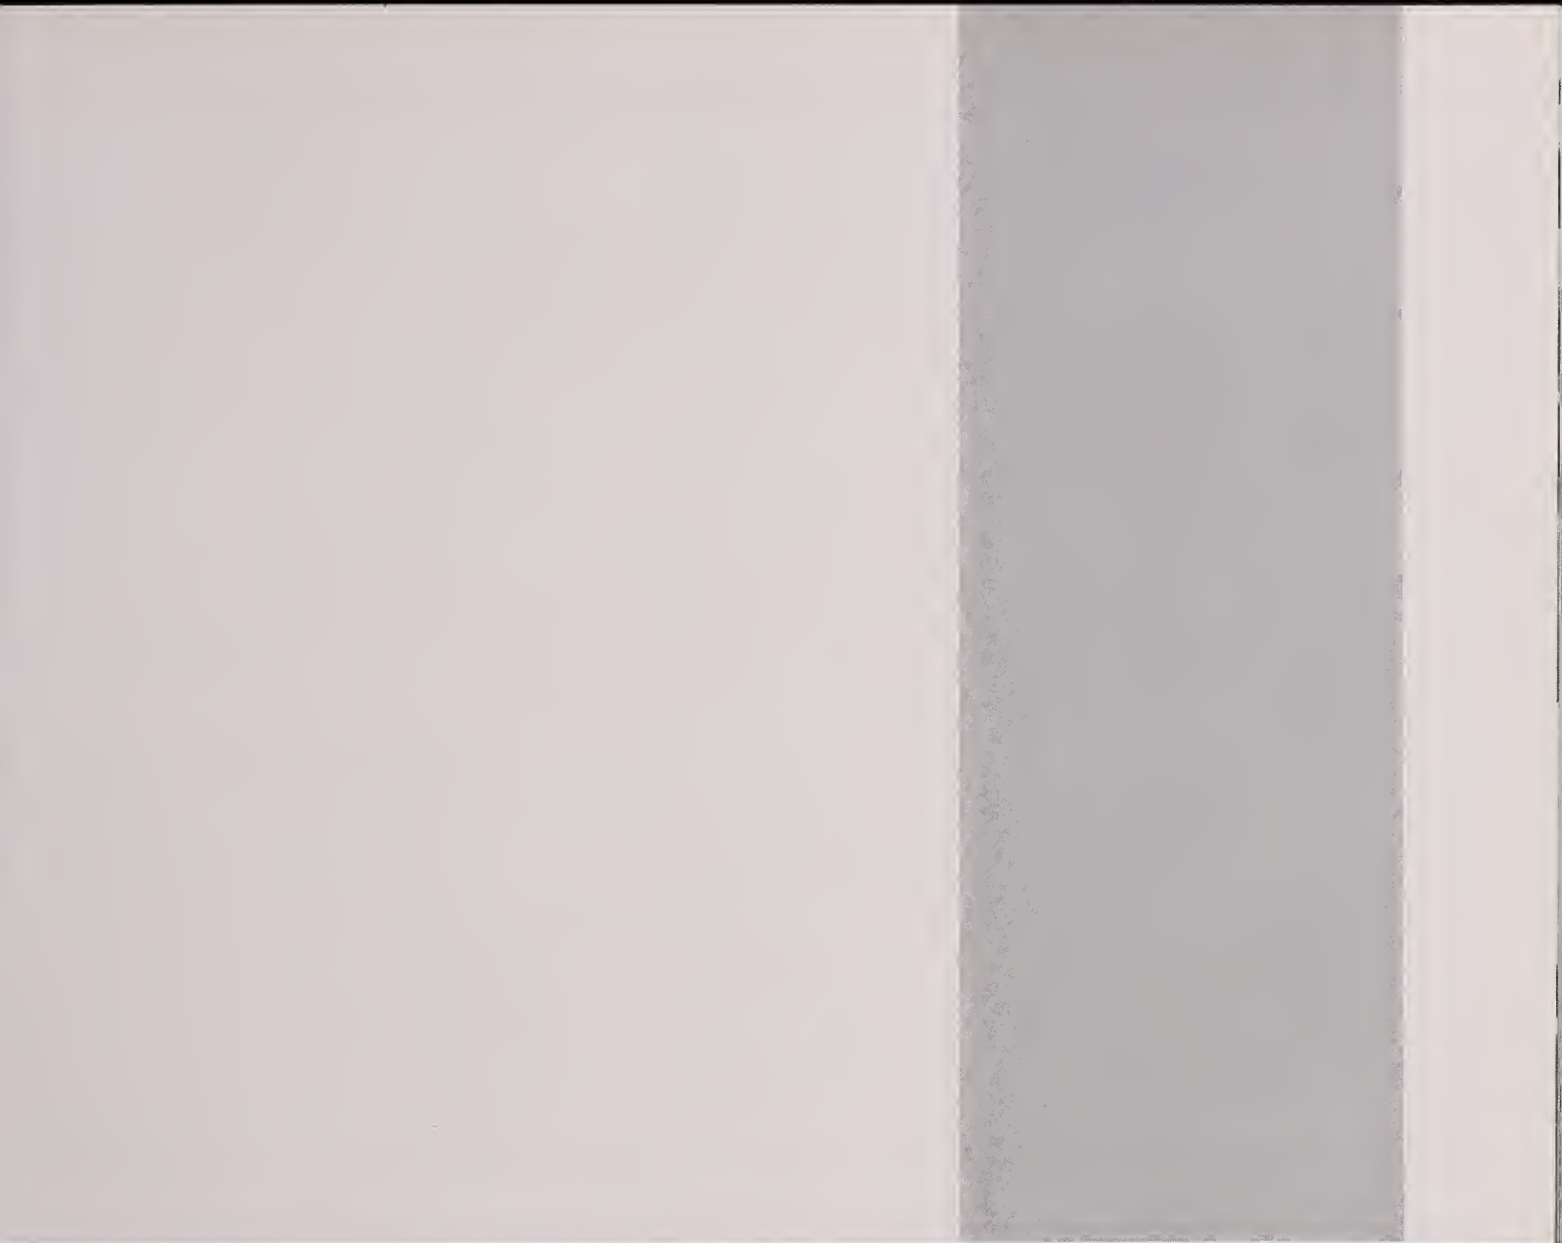

Half-tones- Screened photographs of photos which have dots to pick up ink in the final printing.

Page negatives- The completed pages are shot on film, halftones are stripped in and the paper is sent to the printer.

The high point of the 1979-80 paper was being presented with Medalist Honors from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association which is affiliated with the Journalism Department at Columbia University in New York. Papers which receive the award must earn a first place rating and earn points in the bonus category. The Mass Media earned 863 out of a possible 1000 points.

Study Money

Most students can now get some form of Federal aid to help pay for their education after high school. To find out more about Federal student aid programs, write to: Box 84 Washington, D.C. 20044 and ask for the free booklet "Student Consumer's Guide" and get in touch with your high school counselor or the financial aid administrator at the school if you have any questions or need help in applying. Remember, if you need money to help you go to school, it's time to apply yourself!

*So now MY FRIENDS we come to an
End. New beginnings and old feelings haunt us.
Never will we pass this way again.
I smile when I think of all of us
On our way to who knows where
Remembering that we've shared a little life
Some special times, some magic moments.*
